I am a fresh graduate with a Bachelor's degree from Indraprasta PGRI University. I am passionate about web development, especially as a Front-End Web Developer. With over one year of experience as a Web Developer, I am familiar with the Frontend ecosystem of the MERN Stack and Next.js. I enjoy every aspect of the creative process and have a strong sensitivity to web development and design. I am seeking a dynamic and challenging role where I can further develop my skills and contribute to the success of web development projects.
